common sense of the democracy in China list until to-morrow. las been greatly enhanced by the way in which the newly-created Provincial Assemquently the fears which were at first inspired regarding the results likely to follow from constitutional government have been considerably mitigated. Our recent telegrams from Peking lead us to expect at any moment an announcement from the Throne cannot but think that the sooner the Parlia- ability. ment is established the better will it be for must give place to new, and the sooner the better. Nothing can be more significant of the popular feeling than the comments ! which have appeared in many native papers, north and south, upon the revolution in Portugal. There has been considerable unanimity in pointing out that the lesson of the revolution for China is that it was brought about entirely in consequence of the rottenness of the govern mental administration and the incapacity of the political leaders. We observe that a native paper which is regarded as the organ account, has been asking whether China will not take to heart the lesson just taught in Portugal, and set to work with al possible diligence to reform her internal administration. Many Edicts during the last few years have made plain the fact that the necessity for this reform is very clearly recognised by the Throne and its advisers; but the task is too gigantic to be accomplished in a hurry. A long step forward in this direction was taken when the Provincial Councils were brought into existence. Though their functions are now purely advisory, they will doubtless in time be granted legislative powers which will afford larger scope for their reforming zeal. We have only to look at what has recently been happening at Canton to realise the increasing difficulties of government by. officials under the existing bureaucratic system. Here the Provincial Assembly have been at loggerheads with the Viceroy overthe question of licensed gambling. By a unaninious vote the Assembly called upon the Viceroy to immediately put an end to licensed gambling, on the undisputable ground that it is immoral and highly injurious to the best interests of the province. The Viceroy shared these sentiments to the full, but replied that he could a fine of $10 or go to prison for one month. not close the gambling houses until he found means of substituting the large revenue which would be thereby sacrificed. Dissatisfied with this reply, the members of the Assembly abstained in a body from attending to business for three days, and only resumed on a promise from the Viceroy that he would memorialise the Throne to fix a date for the closing of the gambling houses. In the time of the previous Viceroy this question was under consideration, and Viceroy Chang took steps with a view to closing the houses. His plan was to meet the loss of revenue by an additional tax on salt, and the fact that this additional tax is now being levied; while no date has yet been fixed for the closing of the gambling houses explains the determined attitude of the Assembly on the question. It does not seem that the additional taxation yields more than about two-thirds the Note-For Hongkong the above Prices will amount of the revenue der ved from the gambling monopolies, but, if necessary, the Assembly are prepared to support additional taxation on samshu to fully cover it. Meanwhile they are asking for a true statement apparently in the belief that if the entire tum received were to be devoted to public the owner retrieved the pocket-book. purposes little or no additional taxation would be necessary. This incident serves exercise, and shows clearly enough that in Editor, not for publication but as evidence of the rising power of the democracy lies the best hopes of that thorough reform in the administration which is essential to the true progress and advancement of the State.

LADY LUGARD.

A POPULAR WELCOME.

His Excellency the Governor and Ludy Lugard returned to the Colony yesterday. They arrived early in the morning by the Gorman mail steammer Yorck, but the official landing did not take place until 9.30, by which time a large crowd of Europeans and Chinese had assembled in the vicinity of Blake Pier. The Pier was embellished by a profusion of greenery along the sides, while down the centre ran a long crimson cleth. The guard of honour, consisting of 100 men drawn from the Buffs, was stationed on the Prayn facing the pier.

Among those waiting on the pier were Sir Henry and Lady May, Major-General Anderson, G.O.C.; his Honour Sir Francis Piggott, Chief Justice; Hon. Mr. W. Roes Davies, K.C., Hon. Mr. W. SMART WORK BY STANDARD OIL STAFF.

On Saturday evening fire was discovered on the Norwegian steamer Nord lying alongside the Hamburg-America godown. The steamer was discharging oil into the godown, and the fire originated in the forecastle through the overturning of a lighted lamp. As the conditions were favourable to the flames spreading, the outbreak would certainly have proved very serious had it not been for the prempt and efficient assistance rendered by Captain Smith and the staff of the Standard Oil Company at their installation at Pak Hok Tong. PARSI CHARITY FUNDS. TTO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS."

Canton, 31st October, 1910. SIR .- I loarn that a requisition is being sont round for signature in our community n Hougkong to be sent to the Chairman of the Parsi Charity Funds, requesting him to convene a meeting to discuss the trivial question as to whether a candidate for election to the board may or may not be present during the time of his election. Now, cannot the promoters of this requisition better occupy their time than by stirring up dissension on such a trivial matter? To call a meeting to discuss such a matter is simply absurd! It is my earnest advice to the handful of young men concerned to retire—there is yet time-from this squabble with good grace, and they will be conferring a boon on our community. It took many years to build up a chargey fund like ours by our old mon; who displayed a spirit of combination which is in great danger of being broken by the carping criticism which has of late been far too common, and which the only serve to create dissension.

RELIEVING NATIVE TROOPS SOME REMARKS ON THE HONGKONG REGIMENT

Extract from the Broad Arrow of October

"Old H. E. I S. C." writes to The Pioneer as follows :- They have an odd way still in India of relieving native troops, for the latest idea of the authorities is to send the 13th Rajputs, one of the smartest of Sepoy regiments, to Agra next Markham, Mrs. E. Roe, Mrs. Francis Novis, April, after a tour of over three years in Hongkoug! A most trying climate. Now, this means arriving home in the bot weather, when fruit, milk and everything is cheap, and the men accordingly, will be sure to over-indulge when eating and drinking. In Hongkong everything is expensive; the winters are much colder than in Agra. Imagine the result of the climatic extremes, of the rush for milk and Indian luxuries, for three years denied to these men in China. Why should the men be detained till April? The corps landed at a long tour away from home, and their families (being on Field Service, no wives or families accompany the men). Why could not an Indian Marine take the relieving regiment out in October next, and bring home the Rajputs, so that they face the healthier season of the year, when the change of diet and of climate will be less felt? As an old admirer of the Indian Army, I wish to draw attention to this manifest folly of the Brass Hats, and to ask, where do the Indian Medical Service officers come in ?

IN ORIGINAL JURISDICTION. BEFORE HIS HONOUR SIR FRANCIS

PIGGOTT (CRIEF JUSTICE).

A CONTRACTOR'S CLAIM. Chak Chin Hung v. Shiu Lok, Hing was an action in which the plaintiff sued the defendant to recover the sum of $12,622.53, being balance due for work done and materials provided at the defendant's request in connection with additions and alterations, to 33, Queen's Road Central.

Mr. M. W. Slade, K.C., instructed by Mr. Hinds (of Messre. Brutton & Hott), appeared for the plaintiff, and defendant was represented by Mr. Eldon Potter, instructed by Mr. P. M. Hodgson (of Messrs, Ewons & Harston).

The statement of claim showed that on February 7th, 1906, the plaintiff entered into a contract with the defendant to supply certain materials, and to provide labour and do work in accordance with the specification of the schedule of quantities and contract drawing supplied to him in connection with alterations and additions to 33. Queen's Read Central for the sum of $32,800. Subsequent to this contract, and by agreement, the plaintiff agreed to deduct $1,600, being the price of electric wiring, painting and two teakwood mantles. Plaintiff had received from the defendant $25,800, leaving a balance due of $5,400 after deducting the $1,600 as agreed. Plaintiff also, at the request and by the direction of the defendant, did certain extra work on the premises, and on other premises belonging to the defendant at 24, Dos Vour Road, to the value of $7,222.53.

According to the statement of defence, it was agreed that the defendant should have the right to alter the specifications provided the total value of the work was not thereby reduced more than 25 per cent., or increased more than 50 per cent., and that the value of all deductions or additions should be estimated at the prices set forth in the schedule. It was further agreed that the plaintiff should not be entitled to payment for any extra or additional work except upon the production of a written authority of Mr. Potter-I am aware of that; and the signed by the engineers. Defendant stated, with regard to the extra work and materials supplied, that such materials were supplied under the contract, and the contract provided that payment for such work and materials would only be made on production by the plaintiff of a written authority signed by the engineers. Defendant further said that by agreement with the plaintiff the sum of $900 for painting was paid by the defendant to Chu Yung Sam, and not directly to the plaintiff. He denied that there was due to the plaintiff a sum of $5,000, or any sum, but admitted that certain extra work was done, but was performed under the terms of contract. Further, defendant contended that ; the plaintiff was bound by the written authority ther liability, he had paid into Court the sum into the Fends of the Court. of 82,042.96.

Defendant counterclaimed $8,430, liquidated money. It is on deposit. damages for 281 days' delay, and $2,700, amount total of $11,130.

Plaintiff, in reply to the counter-claim, said that any additional work done in respect of 33. Queen's Road Central, was duly authorised by ments with the bank. They will not stand in the engineers.

Mr. Slade read the pleadings and then stated the facts at length, after which the hearing was adjourned.

AN APPLICATION FOR BAIL.

Mr. J. H. Gardiner, applied to the Court for the admission to bail of a woman named Wong Tai, who resides at 221, Hellywood Road, and who was remanded in custody by Mr. J. R. Wood at the Magistracy on counts of kidnapping and assault. The Attorney-General (Hon, Mr. W. Rees Davies, K.C.), instructed by Mr. H. L. Dennys, Acting Crown Solicitor; appeared to oppose the if he was able. application.

custody on a charge of felony or misdemean. go beyond it? our. His Lordship would see that even when a prisoner pleaded guilty there was still an inherent power vested in the Court to grant him bail. There were two modes of precedure, one by habens corpus and the other by a simple application to admit bail.

His Lordship said appeals from discretion were rather difficult to support, so he supposed Mr. Potter appealed to the inherent jurisdiction of the Court.

Mr. Potter stated that fortunately in this Colony we were in a somewhat different position than they were at Home. At Home it was necessary to apply to the Court and appeal to it to exercise its inherent jurisdiction, that inherent jurisdiction being based altogether on common law as regards felony. In this Colony there was an express provision in section 15 of Ordinance 9 of 1899, and even if a person were guilty of treason be could appear before his Lordship under this section and apply for bail.

His Lordship did not know whether this section contemplated an application that had man can convince you that he is willing to come already been made to a magistrate. It seemed up and take his trial. to him that it contemplated cases where a magistrate had not had an opportunity or for me. some reason or other could not grant bail.

Mr. Potter-There is nothing to prevent a magistrate granting bail even after a committal. What your Lordship has to do hore is to say whether from the facts placed before you bail can be granted.

His Lordship-If it is a question of whether the Magistrate exercised his discretion rightly we must know why he exercised his discretion. Therefore we shall have to ask the Magistrate why he refused.

Mr. Potter-The Magistrate is represented, ! but I don't know if your Lordship has to go as far as that. I, as representing the prisener, see no objection to having the Magistrate to give us the fullest particulars.

His Lordship-There is another general consideration. The Attorney-General is supporting the Magistrate. That is to say, the Government is opposing bail.

Mr Potter-Your Lordship must learn some of the facts in this case in order to arrive at the conclusion as to whether the Magistrate has exercised his discretion in this case properly or not. Counsel proceeded to read the affidavit of Mr. Gardiner, defendant's solicitor, which set out the list of charges preferred against the prisoner. Three of the charges, evidence is taken, to put in an affidavit, or get there was nothing more than that the Magistrate | be admitted to bail. would have to allow bail. The next referred to was a felony charge, which was absolutely contradictory to the three charges mentioned. It was taking away or detaining against their wills four girls and a boy with intent to sell them or procure ransom or benefit for their liberation. That was the only charge of felony, and his charges were proved the fourth must fail.

His Lordship-Why ! brought here for the purpose of procuring a hold good. So far as that is concerned, I think ransom if they were brought here to be compelled | this application is premature. to live the lives of prostitutes. The defendant is the concubine of a certain man in this Colony-

Mr. Petter - I have an affidavit made by the man in which he states that two of the children said to be stolen are his son and daughter. If this woman can show your Lordship that she has a defence, and therefore is likely to come up and stand her trial, then bail should be allowed. Here is a felony of such a peculiar nature that there may be degrees of guilt, and if the Magis- | because there are a certain number of people, who trate chooses he can deal with the charge summarily. His Worship-That is the duty of the police. Mr. Potter-Quite so. I agree. The last charge is assault, and it becomes apparent in connection with the others. Counsel then proceeded to read Mr. Gardiner's affidavit, in which it was stated that the solicitor had made two applications for bail on behalf of the prisoner, and they were refused. He had ascertained from the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank that the woman had two sums of $500 and one sum of $1,000 placed on fixed

Mr. Potter-This woman is not likely to run away. She has been ten years in the Colony. Mr. Eldon Potter, who was instructed by The affidavit of what I may call the husband is important, because it shows how many defences there are to those charges. Mr. Potter then proceeded to read the affidavit, and said his Lordship should take into consideration the facts as disclosed in the affidavits put in. He should also take into consideration the fact that the woman was willing to put her money into Court, and that her husband was willing to give security

Mr. Potter-That your Lordship must be able to go beyond that discretion is apparent from the fact that your Lordship has the power. says:-His Lordship-I agree, but here I have got no facts to enable me to judge.

Mr. Potter quoted a case in which a man who was convicted, pending the hearing of a legal point, was allowed out on bail. A men was only thrown into prison before sentence in order to ensure his appearance to take his trial and if he could satisfy the Court that he would appear, then he was entitled to get bail.

His Lordship-If the nature of the evidence has to be considered, you must wait until some evidence has been given.

Mr. Potter-If, in fact, a judge has power to grant bail when a prisoner is on remand, then he must exercise his discretion in some way other than on the evidence which has been taken.

His Lordship-Your argument would apply that in very single case bail should be granted. Mr. Potter-In every single case in which a

His Lordship - This woman has not convinced

Mr. Potter-This is a case in which the charges on which the police rely are misdemeanours. There is no doubt about that.

The Attorney-General-There is every doubt about it. You must not say that.

Mr. Potter-The policeman is the man who frames the charges.

His Lordship-I come to the conclusion, Mr.

Mr. Potter referred his Lordship to section 15 of the Criminal Procedure Ordinance, which he submitted clearly covered the present case.

His Lordship intimated that he would like to at once that this is a most trifling charge hear the Attorney-General with regard to the exercise of discretion.

The Attorney-General referred the-Court to section 99 of the Magistrates Ordinance of 1890. The wording of that section clearly meant that a Magistrate might in his discretion admit an accused to bail after he had heard the evidence. In this case he had not heard the gistrate in which his Lordship could interfere with bis discretion. He (the Magistrate) rightly or wrongly had remanded the prisoner, and the Attorney-General submitted that in no circumstances would his Lordship interfere with him. He was instructed that Mr. Gardiner, who represented the defendant in this case, did not object to a remand, and it was only after the remand was made that he made an application for bail. On the affidavit of Mr. Gardiner the Magistrate was not bound to grant bail in a grave case of this character, even assuming that the woman was willing to put up $2,500. His Lordship said he thought the application was premature. It was perfectly clear that before the Court could reverse the decision of the Magistrate in the exercise of his discretion some materials must be brought before him; some sort of evidence which may have been given at some stage of the case. If his Lordship were to grant bail in this case he would be destroying altogether the discre ion of the Magistrate, because the application made here could be repeated in every possible case. With regard to the property, that was open to two constructions, and he was not convinced that the offer to give up all her property was evidence that the defendant would be ready to come and take her trial, supposing her to be committed for trial. He would, therefore, refuse the applica-

PLAGUE AT SHANGHAL

The N.-C. Daily News of Saturday last

The Health Department officials were extremely active all yesterday carrying out the house to house inspection foreshadowed in the Municipal Notification on the subject of bubonic plague. The sub-district in which the Chinese died of plague on the 26th instant was divided into five sections and systematically visited Health Office officials. The Chinese, on whole, appeared not to resent this procedure, but one suspect, whom the authorities desired remove to the Isolation Hospital for observation, stubbornly refused to go. Two other sick persons, whose symptoms were suspicious, were removed to the Municipal Hospital for isolation, and, including the man who refused to be moved, there are five other cases of indisposition under observation in the Alabaster Read district.

If plague spreads it will be found necessary to obtain authority from the Chinese and foreign officials for the compulsory isolation of the suspicious cases. It is unfortunate that the Alabaster Road is close to the boundary of the Settlement, and almost in contact with the insanitary Chapei district. Should plague or extend over the border it will be almost impossible to prevent it from being reintroduced into the Settlement from Chinese territory.

CHINA'S FOREIGN COMMERCE

The growing commercial interdependence of Oriental countries as against their former dependence upon the Occident is again illustrated by the latest figures of the foreign commerce of China. The Chinese official "Re port on the Foreign Trade of China" shows large increases in imports from Oriental countries and from Russia, but in most cases her imports from Occidental countries show a decline Her imports from India, for example, show an increase in 1909, of 33 per cent, in value over those of 1908, those from French the United States a decline of 21 per cont. While Germany, Netherlands, and Belgium show a slight increase, the total from all in 1909 below that of 1908. From the United States and Canada there was a decrease of 82 million taels, imports from the United States alone having fallen from 41,245,704 Haikwan taels in 1908 to 32,605,549 taels in 1909, a decrease of 21 per cent., against a full of 6 percent, in the imports from Great Britain. 85 per cent. in the imports from Italy, 9 per cent, in the imports from France, an increase of 8 per cent, in the imports from Belgium. The 409,554,653 taels in 1908 to 430,048,606 taels in

SOLE AGENTS FOR THE IDEAL LIGHT.

THE OSRAM LAMP

WHAT IT DOES BEFECTS ENDRMOUS REDUCTIONS electric light bills. IT RENDRES ELECTRIC LIGHT ARSOLUTELY THE CHEAPEST ILLUMINANT, and thus brings this mode of lighting within reach

IT PAYS FOR ITSELF in about 150 hours on account of its great current-saving Properties. THE 17 WATT. (spp. 16 H.C.P.) OSRAM LAMP GIVES 20 HOURS LIGHT

FOR ONE PENNY. THE 40 WATT (app. 32 H.C.P.) OSEAM LAMP gives 25 hours light for the consumption of one unit of current. THE OSEAM LAMP has an average life of over 2,000 hours, and during the whole of that period its initial c.p. is practically un-CONSUMES only approximately 1 watt per Heiner candle power as sgainst 4 watts consumed by a carbon filament lamp. SEE THE WORD "OSRAM" IS ON EVERY

THE OSRAM LAMP WHAT IT DOES NOT

IT DOES NOT deteriorate in light even after 2,000 hours' burning. DOES NOT, although its initial cost is more, PROVE AS EXPENSIVE AS AN ORDINARY CARBON LAMP, for it lasts roun times as long, and consumes one-quarter the current

DOES NOT require any special installing, burns in any position on any lighting circuit, and fits existing lampholders. OSRAM LAMP DOES NOT BLACKEN.

DOES NOT GET HOT. The OSBAM Lamp, although giving four times the light of a carbon lamp, does not generate heat to any extent. This, added to its other advantages, makes it the ideal Lamp for private houses. HE HIGH CANDLE-POWER LAMP DOES NOT take as much current as the Enclosed Arc Lamp, and is rapidly displacing this latter form of lighting, being cheaper in first cost and cheaper to maintain.

SEE THE WORD "OSRAM" IS ON EVERY

Filament Lamps

THE METAL FILAMENT LAMPS-

Save 75 per cent. current over carbon filament lamps.

ARE THE CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE MARKET.

Give agreeable white light. Little risk of breakage. Life 2000-3000 hours.

Great constancy of lighting during the whole period of burning.

Small pleasing forms, pearshaped, plain or frosted glass.

Will burn in any position.

A number is engraved on each F. G. L. Lamp. Customers are advised to keep a record of these numbers, in order to prevent substitution of broken for sound lamps.
